

West University Neighbors: Eugene Neighborhood Survey Results

More than 4,600 community members responded to the recent Eugene Neighborhood Survey, providing useful information about what they like in their neighborhoods and what they would like to improve. Conducted during the summer and fall of 2009, the survey was developed in partnership with neighborhood leaders and the UO's Community Planning Workshop. Neighborhood associations, as well as City staff and other community groups, distributed the survey with a special emphasis on reaching people who have not participated in neighborhood associations and underrepresented groups. These efforts paid off, as results indicate that survey responses are a good representation of the city population in terms of age, income, race/ethnicity, gender, and home ownership.

Responses for West University Neighbors NA were 116, about 2.1% of the neighborhood's total population. Respondents were 72% renters, 7% homeowners, and 21% owned or worked at a business. Seventy-one percent of respondents' household income was less than $30,000, 17% between $30,000-60,000, and 12% over $60,000. The race/ethnicity breakdown of respondents is as follows: 76.9% White, 10.6% Multi-racial, 7.7% Asian, 1.9% Latino/Hispanic, 1.9% American Indian/Alaskan Native, and 1% Black/African American. The respondent age was 45.8% 17-24 years old, 48.7% 25-64 years old, and 5.6% 65 or over. For planning and outreach purposes, the West University Neighborhood Analysis should be consulted to compare actual demographic make up to the demographic make-up of the survey respondents. Gaps may exist.

Fifty-two percent of respondents had not participated in their neighborhood association, but 25% expressed an interest in being connected. Survey data should be consulted for information on what would encourage respondents to be more involved and what respondents view as the neighborhood association's primary role.

Overall, West University Neighbors results show that respondents have mixed views of the quality of life in the West University neighborhood. When asked about what they would like to improve in West University, safety, on-street parking and appearance were the most frequent responses, followed by traffic, connection to people in my neighborhood, and affordable housing for a variety of income levels.

Neighborhood surveys are considered a best practice in neighborhood planning initiatives. The survey provides a wealth of information for neighborhood associations and the City of Eugene, as we work to increase involvement and participation in neighborhood associations and improve neighborhood livability. The full results of the Eugene Neighborhood Survey are posted online at <http://www.eugene-or.gov/neighborhoodsurvey> including neighborhood-specific reports. | 1 | The crime rate is unacceptable, I have known five different residences where my friends have been burglarized and/or robbed. Quit letting criminals go, build more jails and get tougher on offenders. | Aug 19, 2009 8:08 PM |
| 2 | The noise level in my neighborhood is always comfortable. (strongly disagree) | Aug 19, 2009 8:41 PM |
| 3 | The area in general seems to have quite a few car break ins and bike thefts. I think Eugene needs a stronger police influence in the area. Not the mention the disgusting amount of drug use in the area, its appalling | Aug 21, 2009 3:00 AM |
| 4 | The neighborhood feels unsafe with the recent attack on Alder and the constant car break-ins. | Aug 21, 2009 3:45 AM |

| 7 | I no longer own a car as I really did not need one on a regular basis as I can walk, bike or take the bus to most destinations. I think it would be highly beneficial to have Zipcar service available at the U of O and downtown. I think it would help alleviate traffic congestion on Franklin and parking issues in my area. | Sep 11, 2009 3:59 PM |

| 9 | teenage parties with loud music and alcohol are coming back into vogue and it's reprehensible we allow children to act this way. Curfew and noise ordinances are lax and selectively enforced. Alcohol should be discouraged for developing minds under 25. How about a 50% sin tax within 1 mile of campus for ages under 30? | Sep 26, 2009 5:52 PM |
| 10 | There is a big problem with accountability of people who hang around this area and are affiliated with the White Bird Clinic. I am in support completely of White Bird and its services. However, there are what seem to be people that hang around and set up camps in bushes, yards and and blatantly litter. Everyone can contribute to these behaviors of littering. But there have been incidences of people defecating in the garden on our property and leaving needles behind and property theft. There is sometimes aggressive behavior involved where people will approach us for money when we are coming and going from our residence. | Sep 28, 2009 6:35 PM |

| 1 | Though I do like the feel of this neighborhood, it is a little dirty looking . . . As soon as you get to the campus area, rent prices go up by a lot. Especially if you aren't going to have roommates. There are a lot of nice grassy areas around UO, but not many parks that I know of. | Aug 11, 2009 10:28 PM |
| 2 | Our family is somewhat older and more domestic than the typical student. We enjoy our funky old apartment, but the reckless/dangerous driving around campus, anonymous attacks on women, extreme lack of residential parking, etc. have us wanting to move. We actually never intended to move to the campus neighborhood, but even though i have a $50,000 a year job, immaculate credit, no criminal history, etc. we could NOT find any other place. A friend just happened to be moving out and let us take over their lease. I've talked to others who also had a ridiculously hard time finding a place to rent. I really don't know what is causing it, but it is fairly worisome! | Aug 12, 2009 12:08 AM |
| 3 | I would very much like to see the development of the pit across from the library and the Beam remodel at Willamette and Broadway. I also would like to see an expanded whole foods grocery store. | Aug 17, 2009 8:54 PM |
| 4 | D. On-street parking is slim if you get lucky--it would be better just to walk during high-traffic times because you'd never find a close space to park. N. I feel safe because of the sheer volume of friends that live around me, but in the past there have been some shady adult males who live or hang out very near our house. E. Implementing more parks anywhere close by would be a good solution to creating recreation opportunities for all ages as well as making an area for rest and solace even nearer than is already available to me. I am happy with the open space near to me, but much of it belongs to the University. | Aug 19, 2009 5:59 PM |
| 5 | As I specified above, the level of safety I feel living in Eugene is the lowest of every other city I've lived in. I feel less safe with my possessions, and self, than when I lived in an impoverished Honduran countryside. The liberal approach to crime and rehabilitation is a victim of it's own incompetence. | Aug 19, 2009 8:08 PM |
| 6 | I would like to see more on-street parking because not all of the apartment buildings have a reserved spot for renters. Safety is a little bit of a concern since the alley behind my building (Maple Arms) gets really loud at night. People seem to think it's okay to have high volume when they walk through there, and a friend who lives only three blocks away commented that the neighborhood is nice and peaceful up until she gets to my street. Appearance is mainly lighting-- my property manager is not very good at keeping up the lighting on our building so it would be nice to have street lighting to make sure the area is safe at night. | Aug 19, 2009 8:41 PM |
| 7 | The neighbor hood looks dirty, most of the houses in the area (especially along 17th Ave) are fit to be torn down they are in such bad condition. Besides UO, there is little landscaping or nice features, and the better kept up vintage houses clash with the drab new appartment complexes randomly being sprung up everywhere. I do not feel safe in the area, I rarely see police around. I have seen drug dealers, meth addicts following students, and people getting beat up in the area with noooo police to be seen. I plan to move out asap, this part of Eugene is the worst place I have ever lived. | Aug 21, 2009 3:00 AM |

|--|--|----------------------|
| 8 | The reason why I chose safety is because in the past 2 months I have seen at least 6 cars broken into and in the last couple of months there have been several attacks on people near campus, some people just on a run or walking around. It feels especially unsafe for me as a female to walk around without somebody even during the early times of the evening when it's not that dark. The appearance of the surrounding areas where I live could be cleaned up, you usually smell the trash in the alleys and the grass all look dead. And also it would be extremely helpful if there were street lights on the streets 14th, 15th, 16th, and 17th because all of them are really dark and especially at night it feels very unsafe! It would be nice if there were more parks on this end of campus, the only other two parks I know are on the other side of campus near Prince Puckler's or down on 25th and I think Kinkaid. | Aug 21, 2009 3:45 AM |
| 9 | A. Biking & Walking: There is no easy access to and from the Willamette River biking path. Especially coming back from the path, there are NO bike lanes from the Hillyard Street biking path access leading back to 11th Ave. Meanwhile, taking the sidewalk until one reaches a safe road is round-about and slow. D. There are no places for visitors to park for more than two hours, so if one has out-of-town relatives or friends visiting, there is always a scramble as to where the car should go during the day time. OR, if there are nearby day-time lots, the city website doesn't have a clearly accessible parking map/guide for visitors to reference. | Aug 21, 2009 1:40 PM |
| 10 | H. As the west university neighborhood becomes more dense, still retain outdoor areas adequate for gardening and spending time outdoors i.e. small lawn and patio areas. I. The area has generally been a very affordable place for college students on a limited budget to pay rent for the year. With the new developments though prices on apartments are becoming too expensive. N. There are numerous burglaries that one hears from neighbors and friends in the area and there could be better protection from property crime. | Aug 22, 2009 5:52 AM |
| 11 | The cars go by too fast and there is too much glass in the street. Any automobile traffic makes it feel congested. The only parks are operated by the University. | Aug 22, 2009 6:27 PM |
| 12 | I feel the safety of the neighborhood, especially after dark, is a huge concern. My daughter has been here since last September and we have been here for nearly 2 months and in that time I have NEVER seen a police patrol just drive by. The appearance of the neighborhood is appalling. There is always trash in the streets and around the dumpsters. Property owners should be responsible to make sure their properties have the correct size dumpsters for their tenants use and that the area around them is kept clean. With the construction in the area, the on-street parking is non-existent and the construction workers do not have to move their cars every 2 hours or have permits like we residents do. I am not sure what the solution is, but something should be done about it. | Aug 24, 2009 2:53 PM |
| 13 | I work on the corner of 16th and Oak, where there is hourly or metered parking. That makes it inconvenient to park and utilize the restaurants, shops, and businesses in the area. I do notice a lot of transients, and also traffic congestion and streets without nearby cross walks, which can make it feel a bit unsafe. There aren't any parks or natural areas that are very close to my office (unless there are, and I just don't know about them), and that would be enjoyable! | Aug 25, 2009 9:23 PM |
| 14 | Clean up the graffiti and homeless people defecating in the landscaping of our property. Continue to tear down old buildings and revitalize the area with new business/residential properties. | Aug 27, 2009 3:55 AM |

|--|--|----------------------|
| 15 | More dining options within walking distance. Consideration of drivers given to walkers. Walking paths and maps. | Sep 1, 2009 9:50 PM |
| 16 | I love the newly built neighborhood park. It's absolutely beautiful. In addition, it would be nice to have a place for a neighborhood garden. I think more public areas, would help to foster more connectivity between people, which our neighborhood sorely needs. What we don't need are more overpriced, apartment complexes with inadequate off-street parking. | Sep 5, 2009 9:23 PM |
| 17 | Safety: During the day the neighborhood feels safe despite our high property theft rates, however I have seen a homeless person performing a sex act, and several acts of public urination. We also have loud, rowdy, intoxicated people singing, yelling or scuffling as the campus bars close. I do not mind having homeless people in my neighborhood as they are quieter and better behaved than fraternity members, but some illegal activity will always take place in poorly lit, unpoliced areas. I think the police are afraid to come into my neighborhood, so maybe a citizen volunteer patrol on bicycles would help. Appearance: Most of the housing in my area is rental property which is remotely owned and managed by agencies. The look of many of the properties is dirty and poorly maintained which invites college students to trash it. We do have a lot of mature trees on my street that are an incredible asset and a lot could be done with some street improvements. Also if you photographed the current condition of some of the unsightly apartments on the city website as eyesores, along with the owners name and management service that may provide some incentive for them to improve property appearances. New developments: I think we could have much denser development in the area that does not include parking. It is no trouble to find street parking in my neighborhood after 7:00 P.M. or on weekends so most of the parking is taken up by people using services in the area or attending U of O. A visible, highly advertised Park and Ride that utilized the EMX service from both of the East and West areas would alleviate a good portion of the problem and adding Zipcar service would encourage out of state students to leave their car at home. | Sep 11, 2009 3:59 PM |
| 18 | Rather than a mix of homes and rentals, as in the South Univ. where I have also lived, the west neighborhood is being messily overbuilt, and seems to specialize in low cost rentals to students that are poorly upkept. I finally left after the houses around me were demolished for yet more cheap apartments. | Sep 21, 2009 6:54 AM |
| 19 | I think this is a very bike, walking, and bus friendly neighborhood and would like to see measures taken to encourage the use of these modes of transportation and to discourage driving. With so many pedestrians and bicyclists already in the space the heavy car traffic is a serious safety issue. For instance, making all 1 and 2 hour parking areas pay-to-park, and actively ticketing cars that use the bike lanes as temporary parking | Sep 24, 2009 9:56 PM |
| 20 | The streets and homes are littered with alcohol cans and bottles nightly causing many derelicts to come and pick them up for their drug and booze habit. Adding secure drops for recyclables and encouraging residents to not litter them might reduce the dumpster divers. The wholesale conversion of houses to multi-unit rentals is disgusting. If this is to continue the city must insist that for each permit 30% of the units be made available to low-income and disadvantaged renters. The streets NEED crosswalks painted on and crossing lights for pedestrians and bicycles. Drivers are rude and inconsiderate and a danger to those on foot especially. How many deaths have to happen? Barriers ending car traffic around campus should be built to encourage drivers to park and walk or ride | Sep 26, 2009 5:52 PM |
| 21 | I am not a student, but most of my neighbors are. There are plenty of cops ready and willing to cite homeless people for any reason, but they ignore the noise, underage drinking and general nastiness of most of these students. Why? I want more enforcement of noise/party violations. Then more families would feel comfortable living in the neighborhood. | Sep 27, 2009 7:44 PM |

|--|--|----------------------|
| 22 | I believe very strongly that more high-density housing is a good idea. It is a more efficient use of resources and space than single-family homes, and thus more environmentally responsible. I do think there is a balance to be struck between retaining open spaces and a "neighborhood" feeling and providing more student-centered residences. Yes, filling every lot with new apartment complexes may ensure that more students have housing options convenient to campus. However, these buildings often do not incorporate green space and "green" technologies, which undermines their value and efficiency -- not to mention making the neighborhood less attractive. Furthermore, newly constructed homes are typically more expensive and thus not necessarily an option for all students. | Sep 28, 2009 5:27 PM |
| 23 | Parking: it's already difficult to find street parking or get a street permit and with all the new developments it's going to be even more difficult. Some sort of low-cost neighborhood parking structure is needed. Adequate housing: rent seems to be moving up steadily in tandem with the new expensive complexes being built. It's getting harder and harder to find reasonably priced housing that is of tolerable quality around the campus area. Parks/natural areas: It would be nice to have a public park in the central part of the west university neighborhood-- somewhere in between 13th and 16th and Patterson and Kincaid | Sep 28, 2009 5:31 PM |
| 24 | 1) One of my neighbors has had his car broken into, and valuable things stolen, twice in the last two months. Another neighbor of mine was robbed in the middle of the night while he was sleeping in the same room! The robber took his apple laptop, guitar, bass guitar, and ipod. 2) The closest park to my house is on campus. I would like to be able to be even closer to a park. 3) There is a new apartment building that was built this year across the street. It is about four stories tall and does not fit in with the surrounding architecture. | Sep 28, 2009 5:45 PM |
| 25 | More grocery options would be very helpful for people without vehicles. Safety is also sometimes a concern because there is a significant homeless population in the neighborhood. | Sep 28, 2009 6:31 PM |
| 26 | The parking availability is not keeping up with the new building that is going on. The accountability of people hanging out, setting up camps, defecating and leaving drug needles around. Also, in general the students/people who party and break glass and litter and don't clean up. There is affordable housing but not so much if you are a single person looking for a nice, quiet place to live near campus. | Sep 28, 2009 6:35 PM |
| 27 | I commute to campus and work downtown on my bike or on foot. Many of the streets in the W. University neighborhood have potholes and cracks that cause my bike to need frequent repairs. Many of these streets also lack street signs and lamps, making it difficult to see at night and find places you're going. It's dangerous to bike at night in neighborhoods with shoddy street quality and no lighting. | Sep 28, 2009 6:38 PM |
| 28 | For my first choice, I chose access to services because there are few grocery stores in the nearby area that can be reached easily by biking or walking. The few stores that do exist are also not the most economical. To have more stores and especially cheaper stores would be wondrous. Secondly, while there is on-street parking it is usually quite full. For such things as when one moves in or out of a place this can be a bit of a problem. The housing here is also rather expensive compared to housing in other areas. While this is likely because it is close to campus and downtown, it still would be nice to have more options. | Sep 28, 2009 6:41 PM |

| 29 | Although Alder Street itself is rarely congested, the cars that drive down often drive much too fast and are pretty unaware of pedestrian and bike traffic Although there is a lot of parking around my neighborhood it is all either metered, requires permits, or is one and two hour parking. University students already pay enough in tuition that having to pay for a parking permit or worrying about moving their car every 45 minutes is a pain. Plus permits don't even guarantee a spot to park. There are a lot of students that roam about late at night, or drive cars somewhat recklessly late at night, with little regard for pedestrian, bike, or pet and animal presences. | Sep 28, 2009 7:16 PM |
| 30 | <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. There is a park now, but it's so exposed. It's not really a comfortable park to hang out in. 2. College students break a lot of glass, which makes me nervous when riding my bike. | Sep 28, 2009 8:19 PM |
| 31 | This area is a main hub of living for University of Oregon students, and while overall it's a pretty nice area, I still worry about the safety aspect. Being a girl, I would not feel comfortable walking by myself around here at night. Even with the buddy system, it's still a little sketchy. Another thing is that there is virtually no on-street parking available, and where there is, it's a two hour time limit, which is just really inconvenient. The last thing is that traffic is horrible. Pedestrians, bicyclists and vehicle operators all violate traffic laws a lot of the time. When you're driving, people walk out in front of you. When you're walking, you try not to be hit by a bicyclist who isn't paying attention or by a car that is going too fast. | Sep 28, 2009 8:56 PM |
| 32 | It's hard to find parking in this area and sometimes I have to park a block away from my apartment complex. | Sep 28, 2009 9:08 PM |
| 33 | I lived next to the white bird for a considerable time and the pervasive homelessness is an issue I had to deal with on a daily basis. | Sep 28, 2009 10:08 PM |
| 34 | In my neighborhood it feels as though everyone is so tired of being pestered by bums that they prefer to hide out in their house and not be friendly with the neighbors. I used to sit on my porch more often and attempt to meet people, but after being threatened on a handful of occasions simply because I couldn't spare some change, I too have receded into my backyard and keep to myself. I think that if something is done to make sure that everyone in the neighborhood actually lived there or was wanted there, it would be a much more desirable area with more neighborhood connections. | Sep 28, 2009 11:19 PM |
| 35 | <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. There are some old and cheap looking houses several blocks away from my apartment. It does not look right to have these properties among other nice apartments. These houses are occupied by some hippies, and apparently they do not take care their houses well. 2. There is not any street parking on my street. The closest one is in UO campus. When people come to here to visit friends or just drop off something, they have to park kind of far away and walk back. 3. Almost everyone who lives here are students. So, there is not many activities to connect neighbors besides schoolwork and activities on campus. | Sep 29, 2009 4:43 AM |
| 36 | I live at a ten-minute walk from the University, a two-minute walk from an art cinema, a ten-minute bike ride from downtown, an under-thirty-minute bike ride from the riverbank trail or Hendricks Park or either of the two buttes. I can walk to the bus in thirty seconds but I don't need to. It's noisy here on occasion but never during prohibited hours; anyway it's what you sign up for when you choose to live in a residential alley populated by young people half a block from a bar. The alley itself is not pretty, but it might be a shame if it were. If any of the structures in this alley were remodeled it would mean congestion during the construction and then higher rents. Some of the businesses around here are institutions; in fact they are historical landmarks. Somebody just opened a waffle stand right off the sidewalk; he's selling them, well, like hot cakes. After wishing for more and better services for the homeless -- and I know that White Bird does quite a lot -- the only thing I can hope is that this place not change at all. | Sep 29, 2009 1:47 PM |

| 37 | The campus nearby is like a park but I would have liked something a little more quiet. There are parks within biking distance but it would be nice to have something to walk to, like a big shared back yard, especially since I live in an apartment complex. The traffic congestion is not too particularly bad at most times of the day. 13th can get busy at times. I believe that if there was a quiet park nearby, the connection with people in my neighborhood would be improved as well. | Sep 29, 2009 3:30 PM |
| 38 | I find that there is a dangerous lack of street lamps in Eugene. I would feel much safer as a pedestrian, driver, or bicyclist if I could at least see the attacker or vehicle that is coming at me. I would also like to see better more consistent police patrols around the university. I recognize that it is difficult to make primarily students clean their front lawns, but I think a neighborhood no littering campaign could be very successful in both beautifying the area and in helping the Environment. I would also like to see more trees and natural areas. studies are showing that the fewer impervious services on the ground(like buildings and pavement) the better pollutants are broken down in nature. Thusly by beautifying the area we can also do our part to help the environment. | Sep 30, 2009 4:25 PM |

| 40 | N. Safety: I moved in Aug 31st and there have been two attempts to break in already!!! (to the locked gate installed to protect the property - kicked in one time distorting the lock forcing me to use my car hood to jump the fence and gain access and recently, battery acid poured on the lock to disable it) I am a single girl, living alone. I lived elsewhere in the city without fear and I moved here because it is the only place available on a month to month basis (I leave in 7 months for the Peace Corps). The homeless have had free reign of private property i.e. LIVING on porches, camped out in back yards, alleyways and in between garages, etc. The basement washer/dryer room of my building has had window bars installed because of the number of break-ins to rob the w/d coins. M. Its not a place to put down roots! D. I have off street parking available, but there needs to be a parking permit program here to accommodate the number of people who do need overnight on street parking. | 44 | Being right next to campus, there is a ton of traffic congestion. My biggest problem with this neighborhood is that there is nowhere for my housemates and I to park that is designated for us. We also aren't able to get parking passes to allow us to park along the streets marked two hour parking only, which is every street within a 4-5 block radius of my house. | Oct 6, 2009 3:31 AM |
| 45 | 1st Choice. The bike lanes are great, however the cleaning of the streets often means that debris is pushed into them. Is cleaning the streets possible with out pushing all of the glass and wet leaves to the bike lanes? 2nd Choice. Nobody can force a store like Fred Myers to show up in the area, but the issue with shopping in the West University area is the lack of stores which sell something other than groceries and the odds and ends. Getting a pair of pants or a pillow means traveling to the ends of Eugene. 3rd Choice. Parking is parking. I do not know what you would do in the University area as a city to solve parking. | Oct 7, 2009 7:23 PM |

|----|---|-----------------------|
| 1 | Forums on having safe parties, meet-and-great with campus beat police officers, community self-defense shops for women?, bike-advocacy, neighborhood-watch style collaborations | Aug 12, 2009 12:13 AM |
| 2 | Bright signs on the street work a lot better than flyers in the mail that people never read. A block party getting people together for food and music would be awesome! I bet people would donate a couple bucks, if it went to the city or another cause. | Aug 19, 2009 6:05 PM |
| 3 | Newsletters sent to residents. | Aug 19, 2009 8:42 PM |
| 4 | Maybe start a neighborhood watch program or something a little bit better to protect a lot of the college freshman thru seniors who live there | Aug 21, 2009 3:03 AM |
| 5 | As I stated above, make helping the neighborhood a part of students learning experiences. Earn credits for working on the neighborhood board, running the neighborhood farm, etc. | Sep 5, 2009 9:33 PM |
| 6 | I like the flyer that the WUN send out warning the "neighborhood newbies" about bike and property theft, they could also include web links to services like EMX, local bike trails/paths and ask that the drunken stagger home from the bar occurs more quietly as some folks do work at 5:00 A.M.! Also 90% of the WUN is web savvy and uses the internet for everything, post on craigslist and facebook and you may be able to cut down on the mailings to a few a year. College kids have to be coaxed into a feeling of neighborhood ownership. Instead of meetings, have workshops on bike maintenance, balcony urban farming and designing your own tattoo that will freak out your parents. Directly asking college students to develop a "sense of place" will remind them of their parents asking them to take out the garbage, Instead "introduce" them to the cool people or things in their new neighborhood. Local bike shops, tattoo and piercing establishments, OSU extension services and local celebrities could all be procured reasonably and it would promote local business. Neighborhood projects should integrate the U of O more, the Landscape Architecture Program has been utilized before, put what about PPPM (Planning Public Policy and Management) and Environmental Studies? They could use internship credit to get students to be "caretakers" of a block or zone and document damage to planting beds, trash, vandalism etc... I would like to see projects that protect our current street trees, encourage native landscaping and maybe some fresh paint or pressure washing encouragement. | Sep 11, 2009 4:30 PM |
| 7 | I'm most interested in organizing efforts to push for sustainable improvements to the neighborhood. | Sep 24, 2009 9:59 PM |
| 8 | Bring back neighborhood watch. Have strict enforcement of noise, alcohol and petty crimes. | Sep 26, 2009 5:55 PM |
| 9 | Open communication about development and construction and facilitating street fair/block party/rummage sale type events | Sep 28, 2009 5:29 PM |
| 10 | Sponsor park BBQs, concerts, etc... Hold workshops on useful neighborly skills/knowledge: conflict resolution, renter's rights, etc... | Sep 28, 2009 5:37 PM |
| 11 | Have neighborhood clean ups and petition city to add street lamps and improve streets/sidewalks | Sep 28, 2009 6:41 PM |
| 12 | community garden | Sep 28, 2009 7:13 PM |
| 13 | Clean-ups, gardening. | Sep 28, 2009 8:22 PM |
| 14 | Get rid of the bums, fix up the area by planting flowers or something. | Sep 28, 2009 11:21 PM |
| 15 | If I just knew what exactly the neighborhood association is, how it is constituted and who is a part of it, that would be an appropriate starting point. | Sep 29, 2009 1:54 PM |
| 16 | Events going on in the neighborhood, things to look out for (perhaps a recurring safety issue, etc.). Neighborhood clean up/restoration projects. Get word out to everyone about noise issues and other complaints. | Sep 29, 2009 3:32 PM |
